ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

My research agenda focuses on social education and social work, with particular emphasis on issues concerning the war-affected children, refugee children and integration of newcomers. My academic interests also include matters associated with the rights of the child and the teaching concepts of Janusz Korczak – the Polish-Jews pedagogue, writer and a doctor. My areas of academic interest also include issues related to the acculturation process of immigrants in Poland and other European and Middle East countries; and the socialization process of Polish refugees who came to the UK and to Canada in the years 1945-1990, and who had experienced WWII and life in Siberia.
